

Girl Scouts honor businesswoman

The Girl Scouts are honoring a Tustin businesswoman for her professional accomplishments.

Laila Pence, a former Scout, is one of six Orange County residents who will be paired up with a current Girl Scout during the organization's annual Celebrate Leadership event in November.

The event brings together 400 county business and community leaders to raise funds to support the Girl Scouts. Pence, from Tustin, is a Principal of Pence Wealth Management in Newport Beach, a wealth management firm. Barron's Magazine has ranked her the country's 10th-best female financial advisor.

– Joshua Stewart